Epilepsy and Intellectual Disability
About Our Service

1 Our team has doctors and nurses specially trained to treat epilepsy.

3 We treat patients in hospital outpatient clinics.

2 Our focus is on better seizure control and improved quality of life.

4 We may ask you to have some hospital tests.

5 These tests may help us understand why you have epilepsy and how best to treat it.

7 We provide a vagal nerve stimulation service.

6 We run teenage transition clinics in the local special schools.

8 We provide a telephone advice service.

9 People with mental health needs or behaviours that challenge services are seen in joint epilepsy and psychiatry clinics.

11 Our team provides information to help you stay safe.

10 We support people with epilepsy admitted to the assessment and treatment unit in the Intellectual Disability Service.

12 We offer epilepsy training to carers so you can get the right support to live a full and active life.
