

Comment on what your child is doing

This helps because:

- Your child will have a choice about whether to talk or not.
- Your child will hear the words that go with what they are doing or looking at.

Try not to ask too many questions

This is because:

- Your child might not know the answer so will say nothing.
- Your child may not feel like answering.

