

Telephone Support Service

Confidential support for people referred to or attending
The Nottingham Centre for Transgender Health

Call 020 7832 5813

Open Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays 1-6pm

You can use the telephone support service to:

- prepare for your first appointment
- gather information about the service and the assessment process at The Nottingham Centre for Transgender Health
 - seek support and wellbeing advice
 - seek information about support groups available

This service is a trial, taking place from February to December 2018. Following evaluation, if found useful to people, it may be open for longer.

The telephone support service is not:

- part of the assessment process
- able to change appointments at the Centre
- for medical advice regarding gender affirming medical interventions
 - an emergency service

In case of an emergency please ring the emergency services on 999

This service is delivered in partnership with: